The Fire Eater date is 26 May 2008

2008, Volume III

Jefferson Davis Bicentennial

Visit the Beauvoir website.

Visit the Mississippi Division, SCV.

Read a short biography of Jefferson Davis.

Research: The Papers of Jefferson Davis.

"Having achieved your independence, having passed through the confederation, you assented to the formation of our present constitutional Union. You did not surrender your state sovereignty. Your fathers had sacrificed too much to claim as the reward of their trials that they should merely have a change of masters."

Jefferson Davis' Speech at Boston Faneuil Hall, October 11, 1858

Archive Notes

IN MEMORIAM:

Kana King Aston

Alison Aston

Sharlyn Lee Kinney

Authors

Donald L. Gilmore
The Pavement of Good Intentions
Al Benson, Jr.
Those Nasty Dahlgren Papers
MacDonald King Aston
The Puritans and Political Correctness
Cole Kinney
"I Saw Davis There"
Mr. Poe, Chief Psychopomp, the Fire Eater
Goodnight, President Davis
Mary Godwin
The Lincoln Gift Set for African-Americans
Collier Z. Wellington
The Secret of Life, Part III
The Coffee Camp
John Trousdale Coffee
David S. Reif
"Sententia Meridiana"
MacDonald King Aston
Angel of Biloxi
Derrick Stoff
We Are Southrons
Ghost Dawg
Shadowy Figures from the South
From the Vault
Galway Moss: CSAirlines
(PDF file)
Calvin E. Johnson, Jr.
The Jefferson Davis Memorial Day Funeral Train

Letters to The Editor

Meet the Fire Eaters!

The Fire Eater Literary Advisory Board:

David S. Reif
Al Benson, Jr.
MacDonald King Aston

The Fire Eater Quotation

Jefferson Davis (1808-1889)

"With constancy and courage unsurpassed he sustained the heavy burden laid upon him by his people. When their cause was lost, with dignity he met defeat, with fortitude he met imprisonment and suffering, with entire devotion he kept the faith."

Driggs, et al. "Richmond's Monument Avenue," 71: "The Davis Monument," Confederate Veteran 15 (1907): 198.

Awards!

The Fire Eater copyright 2008 / All rights reserved